Introduction.

A CHRONOLOGICAL EXTRACT OF THE ANCIENT NAME OF WILSON, FROM DU BARD.

THE first of that name came from Denmark when the Danes invaded England, which having succeeded and England subdued, that name flourished, with large possessions in Cheshire, Lancashire, Yorkshire, and spread even to Scotland. Dubar—Wilson il parloit de argent, a wolf salient vert, armed and langued gules. So the paternal coat of that name is a wolf, which they carried in Denmark, and in England, during the subjection of that kingdom to the Danes; but upon the revolution of state in England, by assassinating the Danes, those who escaped of that name went into France, and added to their arms a chief sable, in commemoration of the bloody misfortune that had happened to the other part of their family; so, from the expulsion of the Danes, that name bore argent, a wolf salient vert, armed langued gules, and a chief sable.

Afterwards some of that name purchased land in France, and had joined William of Normandy, when he reached England in 1066, upon which they had a lys of France between two stars of six rays upon the chief sable. Part of the family is now in Ireland, and the entire blazon of their armorial coat is de argent, a wolf salient vert armed, and langued gules on a chief sable, a lys of France betwixt two stars of six rays Or, above the helmet a wreath of his colour; and crest a demy wolf, first underneath his shield, in Asseral, the motto :—

Providentia et Labore or Ovium qui Velatus.

The above was sent to Daniel Wilson, of Dallam Tower, in 1749.

NOTE.—Mr. FOSTER will esteem it a favour to be informed of any mistakes which may be noticed, so that they may be corrected in a subsequent issue.
